Look for Next Week's Newsletter on Wednesday

[Editors Note: Traditionally, there is no newsletter printed 4h of July week. And usually, like Scarlett O'Hara (but without the décolletage) who dug with calloused and bloodied hands through the solid, red Georgian clay under the unrelenting Georgian sun for wormy, mealy turnips, I go scraping around for info to include in the newsletters. But this week I had newsworthy items falling from the sky. Don't know if the earthquake was a factor. So, here is an abbreviated edition of the newsletter. Please refer to last week's edition for worker assignments for the Tuesday, July 6 and Saturday, July 10 meets. I hope to get a real newsletter out no later than Wednesday afternoon, July 7].

Coaches Corner

This season is just flying along - before you know it city and classic will be here. The kids are doing an amazing job. Thus far we have won 2 out of our 3 duel meets and the kids continue to improve on their techniques and have their times drop. I'm very happy with how quickly these kids are learning all of the different strokes and techniques from my coaching staff. They are being very obedient and courteous. The season is progressing nicely, and I'm very pleased with how well our team is doing. We have our 4th of July games this coming Sunday and all who are able to come are welcome. The kids play games, can win prizes, and usually have a blast. I would like to thank all of the parents who have personally expressed their gratitude towards the coaching staff. It's always nice to hear that your work is being appreciated. I hope the kids continue to have fun for the next few weeks and we will try to wrap this season up with a bang.
